

What does the cost of the subscription include?

Your subscription includes either 7 or 14 weeks of flower bouquets, with delivery. Each bouquet will be unique- as the seasons change, so will the flowers. We grow over 40 varieties of flowers including sunflowers, zinnias, dahlias, lisianthus, snapdragons, heirloom carnations, flowering kale, and sweet peas. Your flowers will be harvested the day before delivery, which is about as fresh as you can get! Your flowers will arrive in water in a vase. We will ask you to save the vases for us so we can wash and reuse them.

Why should I get a bouquet subscription?

Because you deserve it! Or you're giving it to someone who does. Flowers are food for the soul, and we all need a little nourishment sometimes. Just the thought of sticking my nose in a bundle of fresh flowers makes me happy. Brighten up your office, or your home. Or, give yourself a nice pretty distraction from the pile of clutter and dirty dishes inevitably accumulating in your kitchen (or maybe that one's just me?)

Why pay up front? Can I get my money back?

We are using a CSA (Community Supported Agriculture) model more commonly seen with vegetable farms. Getting this money up front at the beginning of the season is extremely beneficial for us, as we are paying for seeds, fertilizer, etc. We hope to give you every reason to stick with us for the season, but if for some reason you need to cancel your subscription part-way through we will refund you for the remainder. If you are going to miss a week due to a vacation, we will prorate your subscription accordingly. Or, if you prefer to gift your bouquet for that week to a friend, family member, colleague, let us know!

What methods of payment do you accept?

We accept payment online through PayPal. Let us know if you wish to pay online and we'll send you the link to do it. We also accept personal checks.

Where will my bouquets be delivered?

If you are ordering a subscription for a business, we'll just need to know the business hours and we will bring it to your office/front desk. If you have a specific location at the workplace you'd like it brought to, just let us know. If you're ordering bouquets for your home, please provide us with your home address. Ideally, you'll have a spot out of direct sun/rain we can leave it in case you aren't home during delivery.

When will my bouquets be delivered?

We are still working out our schedule for the season and will keep you informed when a final decision is made. The first delivery will be mid-late June and we will most likely deliver on either Monday or Tuesday.

How do I care for my flowers?

We harvest before the heat of the day, allow the flowers to hydrate and we store them overnight in our walk-in cooler to help them last as long as possible. To help them stay fresh, it's best to display the flowers in a place that's out of direct sunlight as much as possible. Change the vase water every day or two.
